

The territory of the Etna Park and the Alcantara Valley is rich in crops of vines, olive trees, pistachios, chestnut trees, walnuts, etc. that over time have characterized it for its excellence. A journey to live, on the slopes of the highest and most active volcano in Europe, Etna. A mix of colors, flavors and traditions bring us into contact with the local communities of this particular territory which still speak the Gallo-Italic language, that is a mixture of Italian and French. Together with them it will be possible to participate, according to the season, in the collection and transformation of products, from wine to oil, from cheeses to desserts etc .. The context of the villages such as Castiglione di Sicilia, Randazzo, Motta Camastra, Santa Domenica Vittoria, Floresta, Montalbano Elicona etc. brings the visitor back to a human dimension where it will be possible to enjoy the pleasures of a past time.
